Many individuals new in town are curious about how the location became recognized as Buckhead. I've heard numerous erroneous guesses at this. 1 individual told me it is because of the shape that the Interstates 75 and 85 make as they split and enclose Buckhead. They do form an unofficial boundary of the location, but Buckhead was named lengthy prior to the interstates had been built. I heard yet another individual claim that Buckhead was named right after a specific high-rise constructing having a distinctive rooftop ornament. Naturally this constructing at the same time was built lengthy soon after Buckhead became Buckhead. The truth is that there was a tavern and common shop which became an critical trading post within the location. The owner placed a head of a huge deer at a prominent location inside the shop, and soon individuals began referring to it in reference to this "buck head". Ahead of lengthy, the entire location became recognized as Buckhead, as well as the name has stayed put ever considering that. Inside the last couple of years, a group of homeowners protesting high property taxes threatened to secede Buckhead from the city of Atlanta and form it is own city, exactly the same way Sandy Springs did several years prior. Nevertheless, there already is actually a city in Georgia named Buckhead, about 65 miles east of Atlanta, so it is unknown what the new city could be named. At this time, Buckhead has remained a component of Atlanta, as it has been for many of it is history. Single-Family houses The location of Buckhead itself is broken down into much more than a couple dozen smaller neighborhoods of single-family residences. Each and every has it is own special history, and a lot of are situated on the websites of several civil war battles. Although it can be accurate that Buckhead is recognized as an upscale region with some houses exceeding $10 million, you can find also single-family houses accessible in some Buckhead neighborhoods from the $200,000's. Condominiums Although some Buckhead neighborhoods are exclusively single-family, other people have garden condos and townhouses inside their boundaries. The majority of the high-rise condos, nonetheless, are situated along Buckhead's principal artery, Peachtree Road. Condo costs run the gamut, with several multi-million-dollar condo units accessible, at the same time as a lot more reasonably priced selections even below the $100,000 point.
